

SNAP MARRIAGE AROUSES CLERGY

Woman Who Hired Man to Wed Denounced.

WASSINFUL CONSPIRACY

"Robbed Dead Uncle and Trampled God's Laws."

"Harvey Brown, Who Received $200 for Breaking Sacred Vows by Marrying Eugenie Adams for Few Minutes, as Bad as Woman, and All Who Took Part in Scandalous Escapade Are Guilty," Say Pastors.

With the Bible as a club, Washington pastors yesterday turned upon Harvey Brown and the woman he married Friday for $200 and drove them into outer darkness as arch transgressors.

"You have prostituted our most sacred institution," said Rev. Dr. John Reid Shannon, of the Metropolitan M. E. Church. "You have disgraced our city," said Rev. Zed H. Copp, pastor of Bethany Chapel. "You have set a dangerous example," said Rev. Dr. T. S. Childs, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal Church. "You have fouled the purity and cleanliness of marriage," declared Rabbi Abram Simon, of the Eighth Street Jewish Temple. "You have trailed the dignity of the church in the dust, burlesqued society, smirched our citizenship, and all who abetted your sacrilegious conduct have contaminated society and impaired their own salvation," shouted others.

PULPIT MAKES WAR.
The voices of every denomination in Washington, except two or three, sounded yesterday, and most of the pastors are preparing sermons for next Sunday which they say will spare nobody. They say they will call a mass meeting if necessary to destroy the law that permits such a marriage as that of Friday. Claiming to be the legate of an ecclesiastical union in Germany, whose will exacted that she be married before a certain date, a woman giving her name as Eugenie Adams, appeared in Washington and advertised that she would give $200 to the man who would marry her for a few minutes. Men of varied stripe and strata rushed forward, the "sugar transaction" was exploited, the woman picked her man, the show moved from a newspaper office to that of the Municipal Court, and Chief Justice Bunday performed the ceremony. The bride and bridegroom promised to love, honor, and cherish each other through life, as the laws of God and man prescribe, and they turned away from the sacred marriage altar. The woman paid the man $200, they laughed, shook hands, and parted on the scene of their holy pederst.

"Was the Will Obedied?"
"It was a conspiracy to defraud a dead uncle," said one of the pastors last night, "and in that, if nothing else, it was criminally wrong. The uncle wanted his niece to marry and fulfill her purpose in the world. He wanted her to settle down in a home as a wife. And

KILL FOUR OUTLAWS.

Posse of Mexican Officers and Citizens Recover Stolen Cattle.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Oct. 15.—Advices received here from Guadalupe y Calvo say that a posse of officers and citizens attacked a band of outlaws near that place and killed four of them. A large number of stolen cattle and horses were recovered.

THRONGS HEAR BRYAN.

He Addresses Men at One Meeting and Women at Another.

Lebanon, Ind., Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan addressed two of the largest meetings that ever assembled in this city today. One of them being a meeting for women only and a meeting for men only. Early this morning people began to come here from places ten and twenty miles away, and when the first meeting opened at the Christian Church there was not standing room for the people, while the street for nearly a square was lined with those who could not get in. Mr. Bryan spoke mainly to the young, and exhorted against skepticism, which, he said, was a growing menace in this country, and urged his hearers to encourage religion as the one great need in this world, as well as in preparation for the world to come.

When he spoke at the Methodist church to women only, there was a duplication in numbers of the crowd that had greeted him at the other meeting, every seat being taken and hundreds standing around the windows and out in the street. Bryan was warmly greeted and was frequently applauded. His address to the women was mainly a recital of his observations during his trips abroad of what Christianity was doing for the world through its missionary fields.

John W. Kern and Mrs. Kern were here and left with Mr. Bryan for Indianapolis this evening.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland—Fair to-day and to-morrow; somewhat cooler to-day; moderate variable winds.

DYNASTY AT END.

Decree To-day Will Change Government of Portugal.

Lisbon, Oct. 15.—There was an enormous demonstration at the public funeral today of Dr. Bombarda, whose killing by an army officer precipitated the revolution, and who committed suicide because he thought the rising had failed of success. The procession was three hours in passing a given point.

The streets, balconies, and house tops were packed with spectators. Perfect order prevailed, and the police had nothing to do but watch the procession. The government will to-morrow issue a decree banishing the Braganza dynasty, abolishing the House of Peers, the Council of State, and titles of nobility, and secularizing charitable institutions.

HUGHES LISTENS TO AERO SERMON

Friday's Big Flight Inspires Rev. W. W. Mc Masters.

SEEN FROM HIS DOORSTEP

First Baptist Church Pastor Tells Congregation, Among Whom New Supreme Justice Was Present, that Spiritual Progress Should Be Slow and Sure to Be Successful.

Justice Charles E. Hughes, former governor of New York, heard a sermon yesterday morning at the First Baptist Church by Rev. W. W. Mc Masters, which was inspired by Friday's airship flight of Claude Grahame-White, when White went from Benning track to the War Department.

The pastor's son, playing when he saw the airship, ran to his father's study and called him out, and Dr. Mc Masters stood in his door and watched until the aviator was beyond his vision.

"Acme of Locomotion."
The sermon to which Justice Hughes listened was entitled, "The acme of locomotion," and dealt with the anti-climax of religion, and held that gradual progression in Christian experience was the kind of locomotion that reached the acme of success. "In physical locomotion there is walking, running, flying," said the pastor, "but in spiritual locomotion there is no running and flying. It is walking; gradual progress into everlasting life."

"Secret of Success."
"Peaceful and continuous application to business and duty is the secret of success," said Dr. Mc Masters. "The secret of salvation is a peaceful and righteous application of the faith in God and a slow and steady march in the right path. 'They that wait upon the Lord shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.'"

SAILORS RESENT TIRADE ON NAVY

Angry Mob Pursues Preacher Into Boston Subway.

Boston, Oct. 15.—Frank Urbane, a young man, who cooks in a West End restaurant week days and preaches agnosticism Sundays, narrowly escaped violence at the hands of about fifty sailors and marines to-night, when he made an attack upon the navy while talking at the corner of Tremont street and Pemberton Square. A squad of policemen prevented about 2,000 sailors, marines, and civilians from getting to him when he ducked into a subway station.

This afternoon Urbane declared the sailors and soldiers in Uncle Sam's service were a vicious lot of men, whose hardest work was putting on and taking off their uniforms. He declared that the reason the battle ship Maine had not been raised long before was that the Navy Department knew she was blown up from the inside. A hostile demonstration was made then by some sailors, and Urbane invited them to come to Pemberton Square to-night and he would repeat his charges.

The sailors passed the word to every man, and when he launched a tirade against the navy to-night his words were drowned in jeers. Urbane endeavored to have a policeman arrest the sailors, but finally started up Tremont street. His pace increased to a run and the crowd put after him, increasing as it went. He made the subway, and the police dispersed the crowd.

Tafts Send Condolences.
Beverly, Oct. 15.—President Taft sent this message to-day:
"Mrs. J. P. Dolliver, Fort Dodge, Iowa: 'Mrs. Taft and I extend to you our heartfelt sympathy in your great sorrow. The Senate has lost one of its ablest debaters and most brilliant statesmen. The country has lost a faithful public servant.'"
WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Rothschild's Faucheur Wins.
Paris, Oct. 15.—At Bois de Boulogne today the race for the Grand Critérium stakes, $50,000 francs, for two-year-olds, was won by Rothschild's Faucheur. Vanderbilt's Lahire was second, and San Miguel's La Bohem third. There were twelve starters.

Ocean Steamships.

Arrived out: New York, at Southampton; Lapland, at Dover; Celtic, at Liverpool.
Sailed from foreign ports: Baltic, from Queens-town; Vaderland, from Dover; Campania, from Queens-town; Friedrich der Grosse, from Cherbourg.

RAILROAD MEN COMPLAIN.

Employees Say Pennsylvania Officials Are Not Acting Fair.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—A feeling of unrest has come over many of the 6,000 employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad on the Pittsburg division, which extends from Pittsburg to Altoona.

The under officials of the road who come in direct contact with the men are accused of not trying to carry out provisions of the agreement entered into recently between employees and the road, and an appeal is being made to the highest authorities of the railroad for immediate redress. If it is not forthcoming there will come the strike, which was so long threatened and so narrowly averted some months ago.

This afternoon there was a special and secret meeting of the different grievance committees of the Pennsylvania employees in Pittsburg.

COUPLE DROWNED FROM SAIL BOAT

Bodies of Man and Woman Have Not Been Found.

Special to the Washington Herald.
Pocomoke City, Md., Oct. 15.—Henry Page Dennis, of Foxboro, Mass., a son of the late State Senator S. K. Dennis, of Worcester County, Md., and grandson of Arthur Crisfield, of Washington, and Miss Caroline Eaton, daughter of President Eaton, of Beloit College, in Wisconsin, were drowned late yesterday afternoon in Pocomoke Bay.

The young couple went out in a boat early in the afternoon, and when darkness came on and neither of them returned home the members of the Dennis family became alarmed. A search was made, and the sailboat in which they had embarked was found turned upside down in the water, but there was no sign of the couple.

It is believed that the young lady, who was visiting the Dennis home, was knocked overboard by one of the sails and that Mr. Dennis jumped into the water to save her and both went down. The creek has been dragged all day, but the bodies were not found.

Mr. Dennis was on a visit to his home at the time, and, having been raised on the water, was quite an expert with a boat. Mr. Dennis was a brother of Samuel K. Dennis, of Baltimore, private secretary to United States Senator John Walter Smith.

Stabbed to Death by Miners.
Mexico City, Oct. 15.—The members of the foreign colony at Ouanajuato are aroused over the murder of Valentine Wilson, a prominent English mining man, who was set upon near his home at the San Cayetano mine, and stabbed to death by miners. Wilson came to Mexico from South America. He had operated mines in different parts of the world.

TEAMS ARE READY FOR OPENING GAME

Big Crowd Expected at Philadelphia This Afternoon.

CUBS ARE SLIGHT FAVORITES

No One Has Line on Plans of Rival Managers—Hundreds of Applicants for Seats Are Turned Down, Owing to Lack of Accommodations—Long Jumps Must Necessarily Be Made.

New York, Oct. 15.—An enormous crowd promises to attend the first game of the world's series to-morrow at Philadelphia. Hundreds of seat applicants have been turned down because of lack of accommodations. Shibe Park, where the Cubs and Athletics play Monday and Tuesday, will hold not more than 35,000 persons, but the managers say that many will be on hand.

In the betting the Cubs are slight favorites, but at game time it may be a case of even money. Nobody seems to have a line on the plans of the rival managers, Chance and Mack, but it is predicted that to-morrow's pitchers will be Coombs and Overall.

Long Jumps in Sight.
Strunk may cover center field for the American League champions instead of Oldring, who is laid up with a wrenched knee. Zimmerman will try to fill the shoes of Johnny Evers at Chicago's second base. After Tuesday's game, the Cubs and Athletics will spend a part of Wednesday on the road to Chicago, where they are scheduled to play Thursday and Friday.

Then come acrobatic railroad jumps, the teams hustling to Philadelphia for a game Saturday and scurrying back to Chicago for a tussle on Sunday. If a seventh game is necessary, the time and place will be decided by lot.

Mack Will Not Talk.
Mack won't talk about the world's series. He simply draws out that he hopes to win. He is of a secretive character. He has always been that way, and in the games on which so much rests this phase of Mack is accentuated. At the Cubs' pit, in the Aldine, the dark mysticism of the soothsayer was lacking. With one exception, Manager Chance was free to announce the names of the men on whom his hopes for success are based. The outfield will be composed of Shekard, in left; Hofman, in center, and Schulte, in right. There is not a man in the lot who is not an expert gauger of a fly ball. In addition, Hofman and Schulte are the team's batting pacemakers. They are perhaps the most formidable sticksmen on the team that the Mack pitchers have to tame. Shekard is a heavy hitter, but he has his place on the team through his ability to get on bases and let one of the others bat him home.

Chance, Zimmerman, Tinker, and Steinfield will cover the infield positions. Even without Evers, this is a powerful combination that is strong in every respect. They are all swift, sure fielders, and are dangerous men at bat.

John Kling, generally conceded to be the first catcher in America, will strap on a wind pad, and probably keep on the job throughout the games. There is no questioning the strength of the Cubs behind the bat; even if Kling is disabled, they have another topnotcher in Archer. When it came to naming the pitcher, Chance, for the first time, became silent. "I won't tell that until to-morrow," he said resolutely, and nobody tried to press him.

GIFT IS A SEQUEL OF WAR ROMANCE

Harvard to Get Endowment from the Duke of Arcos.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 15.—Harvard College has just accepted an endowment of $20,000 from the Duke and Duchess of Arcos in memory of Woodbury Lowrey, Harvard '75, who was a brother of the Duchess of Arcos. The fund is to be employed to "carry on researches in historical archives, preferably those relating to American history in the archives of foreign countries, more particularly in Spain."

The gift can be called in part a peace offering toward banishing the memory of the Spanish war. The duke, formerly Count Brunetti, was minister from Spain during the Spanish-American war. There he met Miss Virginia Woodbury Lowrey, daughter of Archibald Lowrey. The youth paid marked attention to the young debutante, but met parental opposition.

Admiral George Dewey was a great admirer of Miss Lowrey, and it was thought that the gallant sailor was the chosen one. After serving Spain in different official capacities in other countries, Brunetti was notified that his father, the Duke of Arcos, had died and left, besides his title, vast estates. Brunetti then came to Washington, and after securing the elder Lowrey's consent later married Miss Lowrey.

Richmond Tobacco Market Opens.
Richmond, Oct. 15.—The leaf tobacco selling season in Richmond opened in earnest on Friday and the first sales of the 1910 crop of sun-cured leaf were made. The offering was not large, but great eagerness was manifested by the buyers to see and size up the looks of this fore-runner of the season's crop.

Coal Output Is Large.
Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 15.—Conservative estimates of the coal output in West Virginia for the year 1910 by prominent operators place the figure at 60,000,000 tons, which will break all previous mining records in the State.

REVOLT BREAKS OUT.

Nicaragua Again in Disorder and Cables Are Censored.

Managua, Nicaragua, Oct. 15.—Advices from Managua, Nicaragua, state that disorder in the capital had broken out anew and that frequent rioting was occurring. The State Department at Washington has been advised that the provisional government is unable to cope with the situation. Thomas Moffatt, former United States consul at Bluefields, is now in Managua assisting the provisional government.

The advices received here were very meager, but it was stated that the situation had become extremely critical. Dr. Salvadore Castillio, former Minister to Washington for the Estrada government, on his way to Managua, has not been advised of the disorder and fighting. Interviews with the local firms that ship to the Nicaraguan capital showed that for more than a week there has been serious trouble at Managua, and the government has again resorted to the censoring of all cables, both coming in and going out of the country.

BEVERLY VACATION COMES TO A CLOSE

Taft Will Leave for New York City This Morning.

GOLF RECORD NOT BROKEN

Marks Set Last Year Unchanged, Despite the Best Efforts of the President—Gained Several Pounds in Weight and Is Disappointed as a Result—Speaks at Church.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 15.—President Taft's vacation will end to-morrow, when he will leave Beverly for New York City. The President will go back to his desk at the White House in fine physical condition, except for a sore foot, which he is obliged to favor slightly. The President's lameness had just disappeared when he was overtaken by the injured foot on the golf course the other day, and he will have to go easy with it during his three days' stay in New York City.

The President, notwithstanding his golfing and strenuous gym work this summer, is going back several pounds heavier than when he arrived on the North Shore about July 1. There has been one disappointment for the President in the vacation just ending, and that is his failure to play the Myopia golf course in less than 100. The Myopia course is regarded by experts as the sportiest in the country, and about twenty strokes more difficult than the average eighteen-hole course. The Myopia course is strewn with sand pits and bunkers, some of the former being three and four feet deep. A mislay into one of those pits means the ruination of a day's score, and it has been seldom that the President got around without getting his ball into one of them.

How Gardner Got Lost.

A story is told at the Myopia clubhouse of the disappearance of Representative Gussie Gardner into one of the deep sand pits one day when he was playing with the President. One of Gardner's friends, in telling of the incident, says that Gardner entered the sand pit at 1:30 o'clock and emerged at 11. Up to this time the President has not commented on the truthfulness of this version of Gardner's predicament. It has chimed in too well with the President's own experiences. It had been Mr. Taft's ambition on this vacation, however, at least to equal the score of 88, which he made last summer. The nearest he was able to come to it this season was 100.

Next to golfing, the President has taken the greatest pleasure from his motor trips. He has covered several thousand miles in motor jaunts in the course of the summer, and there has been scarcely a day since his arrival here that has not seen him taking an evening run with Mrs. Taft and other members of his family over the fine roads in this neighborhood.

Will Attend Theater.

The President will leave Beverly to-morrow morning and will arrive in New York City early in the evening. He will be a guest at the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, during his stay in the city. Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft will accompany the President on the trip to-morrow. The Tafts will attend some theater in New York to-morrow evening. The President, with Mrs. Taft, attended the Unitarian Church here this morning, and the President spoke briefly. On the Unitarian Church the President said:

"I do not know how you feel about it, but I feel that we of the Unitarian churches have an advantage over most other churches in the excellence of the sermons that we hear, and those of us who have enjoyed hearing the eloquent preachers of our church may well rejoice."

The President said good-by to several members of the congregation after the service.

President Taft hasn't decided definitely upon a summer home for next year, but he will select one on the North Shore probably not far from the house that he has occupied for two summers on Burges Point.

A published report that complaint has been made to President Taft against Fred F. Greiner, postmaster of Buffalo, for pernicious political activity, was authoritatively denied here to-day. Greiner was one of Roosevelt's lieutenants in the Saratoga fight.

Royal Honors for Manuel.

Gibraltar, Oct. 15.—Former King Manuel, his mother, ex-Queen Amelie, and Don Alfonso, Manuel's uncle, sailed from here to-day on the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert for England. Their embarkation was attended by the full ceremony observable in the case of a reigning sovereign. The military honors ashore included the playing of the Portuguese anthem. The war ships were dressed in bunting, and saluted the party as they boarded the yacht.

WELLMAN SENDS GREETING TO WIFE

First Authentic Message Received Here.

ABOUT 300 MILES AWAY

Dirigible Moving Eastward at Fifteen Knots.

R. E. King, of Washington, Writes Friends Contents of Aerogram Received by Mrs. Wellman at Atlantic City to Effect that His Friend Is Headed East and Making Good Progress for Liverpool.

An aerogram from Walter Wellman to his wife at Atlantic City was transcribed to Washington friends last night by R. E. King, of the Ontario apartments, a personal friend of Wellman, who stopped at the seaport yesterday on his way to New York. Following is the aerogram:

"Off Nantucket, headed due east. Fifteen knots. Discredit report of 11 a. m."

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.

By sunrise this morning Wellman will be about 300 miles from Atlantic City, whence he started Saturday at 8 a. m. in his giant dirigible with a crew of five for Liverpool. Frederick B. Aubert, nineteen years old, son of Mrs. Annie Aubert, of 106 E street northeast, Washington, is one of the party.

Messages to the effect that the balloon was driving northeast about twenty-five miles an hour yesterday morning were discredited as unauthentic by the message to the navigator's wife, which Mrs. Wellman quoted to Mr. King. The Washington man says Mr. Wellman is not using his machinery.

WELLMAN NOW OFF COAST OF NEW ENGLAND STATES

Atlantic City, Oct. 15.—Folks who learned from the Sunday papers at their breakfast tables that the officers and crew of the outboard steamer Coamo were the last to report having seen Walter Wellman and his five companions, who left here Saturday morning in the airship headed for Europe, early this forenoon hurried to Bob Miller's wireless station on the Million Dollar Pier and learned that the airship had just been spoken some place off Nantucket.

The last message from the America which Miller received during daylight hours to-day had been picked up by the wireless operator at Siasconet, on the southeast corner of Nantucket Island, at 12:50 o'clock p. m. Siasconet relayed the message through the Sagapoint station to Bob Miller.

"All well," said the message received by Miller. "No trouble with machinery. Expect to make the trip." The message was signed by both Wellman and Jack Irwin, wireless operator on the America. All through the night wireless operators out at sea and scattered along the North Atlantic coast tried to pick up Jack Irwin, but none of them were successful until 9 o'clock this morning, when Siasconet got a response to its stay-at-home crackling of "W.N.N." the America's wireless call. The wind during the night had swung around from the southeast, to blow lightly offshore from the southwest, veering during the day, until at dusk it was coming almost directly out of the west.

Balloon Lost in a Fog.

From reports from Siasconet there evidently was not enough of the offshore breeze to roll away the fog into which Wellman had nosed his way from here. The strength of the wireless response to Siasconet's call at 9 o'clock led to the belief that the America was close to Nantucket, but the fog prevented the Siasconet operator from sighting the airship. At noon, however, he sent word to Bob Miller that he believed he had just seen the America through his glasses, and that she appeared to be

LONG AERO TRIP.

Two Aviators, with Passengers, Fly from Paris to Brussels.

Paris, Oct. 15.—Two aeroplanes flew from Paris to Brussels to-day. Aviator Wynmalen, with a passenger, started at 7:30 o'clock this morning, and Aviator Legasneux, also with a passenger, followed at 7:45.

Both landed at a previously appointed spot near St. Quentin to obtain supplies. Wynmalen reached Brussels at 1:15 and Legasneux at 2:35. Both used Farman machines.

On the return voyage a fog compelled Wynmalen to descend at St. Quentin at 5:05. He will continue his voyage in the morning. Legasneux decided to postpone his return until to-morrow morning. The double journey must be completed in thirty-six hours to win the prize of 100,000 francs offered by the Aero Club.

Construct Old Will.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—A present term of Prince William of Prussia was entered partially on the will of Henry Fairfax, who died in 1846. The court directed that the will be opened at the Potomac River to his estate be sold for the benefit of heirs.

Original Megaphone Man Will Give You the Baseball Story

By means of a direct wire from Shibe Park to The Washington Herald the details of every play in the Philadelphia-Chicago world's championship baseball games, beginning to-day, will be instantly communicated to this office and announced at once by the Original Megaphone Man.

Everybody will be welcome to this news, fresh from the wires. It will give the full running story of the games from start to finish.

Hearing the Original Megaphone Man will be second only to watching the games themselves, with everything told in detail and not a moment's delay.
